A reference to Anarchistic doctrine made him passionate and voluble, "I do not know or care, he said, "whether I killed a man named Carnot. I uo not know that I seized my opportunity to kill the President of the Republic as I would kill the King or Emperor of any nation. I am an Anarchist and I killed the chief of the State, who imagined that he had a right to do what he liked with his fellow-men."

LONDON ANARCHISTS NEARLY MOBBED. THEY HAD BEEN MAKING SPEECHES HINTING AT VIOLENCE TO ROYALTY AT THE TOWER

BRIDGE OPENING TO-DAY. London, June 29 .- Two Anarchists harangued a crowd at Tower Hill this afternoon. They were not molested until they displayed a placard de-nouncing royalty and calling attention to the fact that members of the royal family would be present that members of the royal family would be present at the opening of the Tower Bridge to-morrow. Even then the crowd made no sign for a few minutes, but the remarks of the speakers in connection with the placard were too suggestive of dynamite and the dagger to suit the tastes of their hearers. Suddenly a great shout arose from the crowd, and a rush was made for the stand occupied by the speakers.

The Anarchistic orators bolted from the stand and each made a dash forta place of safety. One of them took refuge in a church, and the other, hotly pursued, was protected by the police. The crowd made a great clamper to have the speakers delivered into their hands, but were held in check by the police and finally dispersed.

CHINA PREPARING FOR WAR.

BELIEF THAT A STRUGGLE BETWEEN THAT COUNTRY AND JAPAN CANNOT BE AVERTED. Shanghat, June 29.-Japan having refused to evacnate Corea, China is preparing for active operations by increasing her naval and military forces. Popular feeling in Japan is so strongly in favor of maintaining the ground already secured in Corea that civil war would undoubtedly have resulted from the withdrawal from Corea of Japanese troops. As between civil and foreign war, Japan has shown her preference for the latter. It is the general belief that war between China and Japan cannot be averted.

THE UNITED STATES AS PEACEMAKER. Washington, June 29.-It is stated that the King of Corea has become tired of the constantly recurring demands made by Japan upon his Government, and that he has appealed to the United States to Intervene. When asked this morning what action the United States would probably take. Secretary Gresham said that the United States did not exercise any protectorate over Corea, and that the most this Government could do in any event would be to tender its good offices to settle the difficulty.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS CLOSED,

HAPPY PUPILS FREE FOR THE LONG VACATION.

THE END OF THE TERM FIVE DAYS EARLIER THAN USUAL-PROUD STUDENTS AT THE

All the public schools of the city closed yesterday, and the streets in the vicinity of each school were filled for a time with youngsters who seemed bent on making noise enough to last all summer. There was good cause for their joility, for the schools closed five days earlier than is customary this year, and the vacation will be unusually long.

The big hall of Grammar School No. 22, at Mulberry and Bayard ets., was crowded yesterday morning. Flags and flowers relieved the monotony stabbed. The children had gathered round him as of the spotless white walls, and sweet muste, a rare thing in that locality, sounded through th windows. The commencement exercises of school were being held, and when they had been ended ten girls and six youths, armed with blue ribbon-tied diplomas and lots of good advice, were sent forth into their new fields.

Alexander Patton presided, and on the platform with him were John F. Whelan and Dennis Shea, trustees of the school, and ex-President Hunt, of the Loard of Education. A programme of thirty tions and oratory followed one another in quick succession, and then, first before Marx Greenstein stepped forward to deliver the valedictory, two of the pupils, Miss Kutle Friedman and the youthful valedictorian, were made very happy by re-ceiving the gold metals given by Police Justice Patrick Divver for good scholarship. Four other medals were also given. To two members of Class 1, M. J. Dwyer, the teacher of the class, gave shining emblems of success. The fortunate ones were Louis Goodman and Miss Augusta Finkel-Samuel Resenthal and a youth named Goodwin were each rewarded with gold medals, given by their delighted teacher in drawing, Henry Ludwig. After "Fair Columbia" had been sung in chorus, the exercises were ended. Mr. Hunt then addressed the school. Following is a list of the graduates: Misz Katle Friedman, Miss Augusta Finkelbrand, Miss Matilda S. McGrath, Miss Sarah Morris, Miss Rebecca Finkelsitein, Miss Sophia Waxman, Miss Matilda Paglinghi, Miss Sarah Harris, Miss Elizabeth Rogan, Miss Agnes McDonough, Marx Greenstein, Louis Goodman, Isaac Goldman, Benjamin Goldberg, Samuel Rosenthal and Dennis J. Noonan.

The closing exerdises of Primary School, No. 12, Nos. 81 and 85 Rooseveltest, were held yesterday afternoon in the main hall of the school. The programme consisted of choruses by the school, duets, recitations, songs and calisthenics. The features of the exercises were a flag drill by nine boys, and a scarf drill by nine girls. The prizes were distributed by Civil Justice Herman Bolte, chairman of the Board of Trustees, Addresses were made by Police Justice Diyver, Alderman Brown and Benjamin F. Spellman. Among those present were Trustees James O'Connor, William Gay, John B. Shea and John F. Fiske and Commissioners Goulden and Wehrum. The school building was beautifully decorated with flags, bunning and flowers. Following is a list of the graduates: Miss Katle bition at the works of the Henry-Bonnard Bronze Company, No. 439 West Sixteenth-st., is attracting wide attention. It is the most elaborate piece ever seen in this country, and for beauty and artistic merit competent judges have declared it to be among the best in the world. The work is the pair of Astor memorial doors, previously described in The Tribune, which will be placed at the main entrance of Trinity Church. The doors are about fourteen feet in height, contain over two tons of metal and will cost when completed and in place about $160,000. They are the work of Richard M. THE TWO WEEKS OF PARADISE VOUCHSAFED TO THE STARVED AND STUNTED CHILDREN

OF THE TENEMENTS.

Ellenville, N. Y., June 29 (Special).-About a mile from the pretty town of Ellenville, perched on the side of a mountain, where it gets the full benefit of the fresh country breezes, stands a large, old-fashioned farmhouse. This is the lovely spot which some of the kind-hearted people of Ellenville have chosen as the temporary home of the poor walfs sent thither by St. John's Guild, of New-York City. Here it is that every two weeks seventeen children are taken from their hot, dusty quarters in the dark tenements to obtain a new lease of life, and to come back strengthened and better fitted to endure the heat of the summer and the hardships of poverty.

The house was built in the days when one of the greatest aims was to secure plenty of light and fresh sir. Three large, well-ventilated rooms are set apart as dormitories for the children. A comfortable bed is provided for each child. The play-The frieze and tympanum which surmount the ground consists of four acres. A large spring a a rod from the house furnishes plenty of good, pure

The remarkable feature about these doors is that they were cast each in one piece. When the larger and intricate pictures are considered, this is a remarkable foundry achievement.

Artists who have seen the bronze doors on the churches of Florence, Paris, Rheims and Vienna and those at the Capitol in Washington maintain that the Trinity Church doors are in many respects superior. F. Wellington Ruckstuhl, secretary of the National Sculpture Society, says: "These great doors have each been cast in one solid piece, a rare feat in bronze casting, and they are therefore worthy of examination, both for their artistic qualities and their excellence as specimens of foundry work."

THE GREAT PULLMAN BOYCOTT.

WHAT WILL THE BENEFIT BE? From The Milwaukee Sentinel.

Supposing Mr. Howard, of the American Railway Union, speaks truly when he says that his organization will bankrupt Pullman in an incredibly short time, what particular benefit will the idle employes of Pullman derive from 1t?

SOMETHING MORE THAN A BOYCOTT. From The Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Mr. Debs has not asked the public not to patronize the cars; he does not make any effort in that direction; but after the people have bought their tickets and after they have taken their sears and have become parties to a contract, he seeks to prevent the carrying out of the contract. Is this a boycott? Isn't it something worse?

THE JUSTIFIABLE LIMIT PASSED.

From The Troy Times.

The burden of it will fall upon individuals in no way responsible for the trouble, and many of them in sympathy with the complaint of the Pullman employes. The American Railway Union assumed a grave responsibility when it ordered the boycott. It has passed the limit of justifiable effort to win its cause.

company's condition or management. The custom, therefore, has prevailed to exact very carefully pre pared sworn reports from the companies at the end of each year, showing all material facts in detail, and thus enabling the Insurance Department to judge of the condition of the companies. Unless he questions the veracity of those making the reports, he is quite able, say insurance people, to pass upon the solvency of a company without spending the months necessary to investigate personally their affairs. In addition to this, it has been the custom of the department, at considerable intervals of time, to make more particular investigations, sometimes at the request of the companies them-selves, and sometimes upon the superintendent's own suggestion. Such an examination is said to be now in process, under the direction of the Hon. James F. Pierce, Superintendent of the Insurance Department of the State of New-York, of two of the largest life insurance companies—namely, the Mu-tual Life and the Equitable Life. Superintendent Pierce completed a very exhaustive examination f the New-York Life Insurance Company about three years ago, the result of which was the reent of President Beers and the election of Mr. McCall to the presidency of that company. is not known whether Superintendent Pierce n cans to examine the New-York Life again this year or not, but it is presumable that he considered the last examination of that company sufficient until he had completed the examination of the other two companies.

A gentleman who is in a position to speak from a full knowledge of the subject said yesterday: It is a very strange thing that the friends of the New-York Life Insurance Company should make an attack upon Superintendent Pierce for his attitude in regard to the proposed examination of the New-York Life Insurance Company by the insurance departments of seven States outside of New-York. These friends of the New-York Life have led the newspapers to state that Superintendent Pierce had been invited to co-operate and assist in this examination, and that he had declined. Instead of this being so, just the opposite is the case. The follow-ing is a copy of the letter which Mr. McCall wrote to Superintendent Pierce when he asked the other departments to examine him:

New-York Life Insurance Company No. 346 Broadway, New-York, June 6, 1894. Honorable James F. Pierce, Superintendent of Insurance Albany, New-York.

Dear Sir; I inclose herewith a copy of a letter addressed to several of the Departments of other States elative to an examination of this company this year I know how busy you and your assistants will be in ther directions from general reports; hence the request to the outside officials. I am very respectfully yours, JOHN A. M'CALL, President.

"It will be seen from this that so far from asking Superintendent Pierce to co-operate, Mr. McCall mps clean over his head and gives the excuse t him that he knows he is too busy. Friends of Mr. Pierce consider it very remarkable that the New-York Life should cause him to be abused for not eagerly joining in the investigation to be conducted primarily by the insurance departments of States. The matter being one entirely outside of Pierce's domain, he, in accordance with his custom, turned the whole matter over to the At torney-General for his official advice, and submitted the Attorney-General's reply to the New-York Life, whereupon the friends of the New-York Life attacked the opinion of the Attorney-General and the part of the Superintendent to an examination, a hostility which seems only to exist on the side of the New-York Life against the New-York Insurance Department and the Attorney-General. The friends of the New-York Life further attack the Superintendent of Insurance for not examining the Mutual Life and the Equitable Life, when as a matter of fact he has been examining those companies for a long time past and proposes to continue the same until the work is done. It is very the same until the work is done. It is very the same until the work is done. It is very the same until the work is done. It is very the same until the work is done. It is very the same until the work is done. It is very the same until the work is done. It is very the same until the work is done. It is very the same until the work is done. It is very the same until the work is done. It is very the same until the work is done. It is very the same until the work is done. It is very the same until the work is done. difficult to say just what the motive is in all this. It cannot be that the New-York Life do not consider the opinion of the New-York Insurance Department as a valuable one, for an examination of their literature, which has been spread broadcast over more than one country during the last three years, will develop the few last three years, will develop the few last three years, will develop the few last three years will develop the few last three years will develop the few last three years.

This statement was supplemented by the following from Mr. Gage E. Tarbell, third vice-president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society: "I cannot give much information," said he, "about surance Company on the New-York Insurance Department, because it is an affair outside of the Equitable's concerns. I do know that it has been falsely stated that Superintendent Pierce, of the New-York Insurance Department, has falled to make an examination of the larger companies, I have seen a statement in the paper from one of the officers of the Mutual Life, that Superintendent Pierce has been examining their company for some time past, and I know of my own knowledge that he has had the affairs of the Equitable under investigatton for months past, and that it is expected that he will complete his investigations during this year and make a report of the same. This will infaced boys with a dinner before them consisting of one slice of some kind of black bread. The woman said: "My husband has been dead nine months. I can get no work. My children cannot go, for they have no clothes." We supplied the necessary clothing.

Each one of the others could tell a similar story. Not one of them but will receive a wonderful amount of good from his outing. When it is considered that not only their physical, but their moral being is elevated and purified, no one can doubt that those who help on this great work will have its third representation at Manhattan Beach this evening.
